

Going Places: Sustainable Transport in Scotland

Edinburgh | NASUWT | September 2017

09:00 Registration and Refreshments

09:45 Welcome and introduction from the event chair

Phil Matthews, Chair, Transform Scotland

09:55 Session 1: Policy Context and Overview

- Scottish Government policy priorities for sustainable transport and Scotland's transport system
- The review of National Transport Strategy and sustainable transport
- Linking transport, planning, public health and environment policy

Scottish Government, Speaker TBC

Professor Jillian Anable, Chair of the Research and Evidence Group, Review of the National Transport Strategy

11:10 Refreshments and Networking

11:30 Session 2: Sustainable Transport: Economy, Environment & Communities

- In this panel discussion we explore cross-cutting themes surrounding the relationship between sustainable transport and economy, health and wellbeing, congestion and environment, planning and communities. How can organisations deliver improvements in their area through sustainable transport?

Bruce Whyte, Public Health Programme Manager, Glasgow Centre for Population Health

Kate Houghton MRTPI, Policy and Practice Officer, Royal Town Planning Institute Scotland

Joanne Boyle, Sustainable and Active Travel Team Leader, Transport Scotland

Peter Mogridge, Transport Policy and Projects Officer, Shetland Islands Council

12:45 Networking Lunch

13:30 Session 3: Good Practice Case Studies

Case studies of successful sustainable transport initiatives: what can we learn about what works elsewhere?

- Implementing a sustainable travel plan
- Tripshare with SEStran and travel planning
- Improving infrastructure for sustainable transport

Victoria Barby, Environment Performance Manager, The Scottish Parliament

Lisa Freeman, Strategy and Projects Officer, SEStran

Richard Ambler, Delivery Manager, Sustrans London

15:00 Event Close

Register online